Note: Expenses must be accompanied by a doctor's certification indicating the specific medical disorder, the specific treatment needed, and how this treatment will alleviate the medical condition

CAPITAL EXPENSE
Amounts paid for special equipment or improvements in your home, if primarily motivated by medical considerations, are eligible medical expenses. The amount paid for the improvement is reduced by the increase in the value of the property. The rest is the eligible medical expense. If the value of the property is not increased by the improvement, the entire cost is an Eligible Expense. The cost for improvements that you would make in the absence of the medical condition does not qualify as a medical expense. Improvements made for personal convenience or that may just be beneficial to your general health do not qualify. Certain capital expenses made for the primary purpose of accommodating a personal residence to one's handicapped condition that does not increase the value of the property, may generally be included in full as medical expenses. Examples of eligible expenditures include:

- Constructing entrance or exit ramps to your residence.
- Widening doorways at entrances or exits to your residence.
- Widening or otherwise modifying hallways and interior.
- Installing railing, support bars, or other modifications to bathrooms.
- Lowering or making other modifications to kitchen cabinets and equipment.
- Altering the location of, or modifying electrical outlets and fixtures.
- Installing porch lifts and other forms of lifts. Generally, this does not include elevators, because they may add to the fair market value of your residence, and any medical expense therefore would have to be decreased to that extent.
- Modifying fire alarms, smoke detectors, etc.
- Modifying stairways.
- Adding handrails or grab bars whether or not in bathrooms.
- Modifying hardware on doors.
- Modifying areas in front entrance and exit doorways.
- Grading of ground to provide access to the residence.

Operation and Upkeep: If a capital expense qualifies as an eligible medical expense, amounts paid for operation and upkeep also qualify as eligible medical expenses as long as the medical reason for the capital expense still exists. This is so even if none or only part of the original capital expense qualified as a medical care expense. Examples would be cost of fuel to operate, cost of repairs, and cleaning costs.

Improvements to property rented by a handicapped person: Amounts paid by a handicapped person to buy and install special plumbing fixtures, mainly for medical reasons, in a rented house may qualify as eligible medical expenses.

Note: Expenses must be accompanied by a doctor's certification indicating the specific medical disorder, the specific treatment needed, and how this treatment will alleviate the medical condition
The following worksheet may be used to figure the amount of a reimbursable capital expense:

Operation and Maintenance

1. Enter the cost of the improvement. $__________
2. Enter the increase in the value of the home. $__________
   - If line 2 is equal to or greater than line 1, the amount is not reimbursable.
   - If line 2 is less than line 1, go on to line 3.
3. Subtract line 2 from line 1. $__________
   - This is the deductible medical expense. $__________

CHILDBIRTH CLASSES

Expenses for childbirth classes are reimbursable, but are limited to expenses incurred by the mother-to-be. Expenses incurred by a "coach"- even if that is the father-to-be - are not reimbursable. HOME MEDICAL TEST
Amounts paid for home medical test such as pregnancy test, ovulation test and kits, semen analysis kits, and drug tests are reimbursable.

HOSPITAL
Expenses incurred as a hospital in-patient or out-patient for laboratory, surgical and diagnostic services are reimbursable.

HOUSEHOLD HELP
The cost of household help, even if recommended by your doctor, is not reimbursable. Certain expenses paid to an attendant providing nursing type service may be eligible. See NURSING SERVICES.
INSURANCE PREMIUMS
Insurance premiums you pay with after-tax dollars that cover medical care are reimbursable. Policies can provide payment for:

- Hospitalization, surgical fees, X-rays, etc.,
- Prescription drugs
- Dental care
- Replacement of lost or damaged contact lenses
- Membership in an association that gives cooperative or so-called “free-choice” medical service, or group hospitalization and clinical care
- Qualified long-term care insurance contracts (subject to additional limitations). See Qualified Long-Term Care Insurance Contracts under Long-Term Care, later.

If you have a policy that provides more than one kind of insurance payment, the premiums for the medical care part of the policy (if the charge for the medical part is reasonable) is reimbursable. The cost of the medical part must be separately stated in the insurance contract or given to you in a separate statement.

You cannot include premiums you pay for:

- Life insurance policies
- Policies providing payment for loss of earnings
- Policies for loss of life, limb, sight, etc.,
- Policies that pay You a guaranteed amount each week for a stated number of weeks if You are hospitalized for sickness or injury
- The part of Your car insurance premiums that provides medical insurance coverage for all persons injured in or by Your car because the part of the premium for You, Your spouse, and Your dependents is not stated separately from the part of the premium for medical care for others
- Health or long-term care insurance if you elected to pay these premiums with tax-free distributions from a retirement plan made directly to the insurance provider and these distributions would otherwise have been included in income.
- Taxes imposed by any governmental unit, such as Medicare taxes, are not insurance premiums.

Prepaid Insurance Premiums
Premiums you pay before you are age 65 for insurance for medical care for Yourself, Your spouse, or your dependents after you reach age 65 are reimbursable in the year paid if they are:

1. Payable in equal yearly installments, and
2. Payable for at least 10 years, or until you reach age 65 (but not for less than 5 years).
LABORATORY FEES
Laboratory fees that are part of medical care are reimbursable.

LEAD-BASED PAINT REMOVAL
The cost of removing lead-based paints from surfaces in your home to prevent a dependent that has or has had lead poisoning from eating the paint is reimbursable. These surfaces must be in poor repair (peeling or cracking) or within the dependent's reach. The cost of repairing the scraped area is not reimbursable. If, instead of removing the paint, you cover the area with wallboard or paneling, you would treat these items as (see) CAPITAL EXPENSES. The cost of painting the wallboard is not reimbursable. Paint removal or asbestos removal as a precaution and not because of a specific medical condition does not qualify.

Note: Expenses must be accompanied by a doctor's certification indicating the specific medical disorder, the specific treatment needed, and how this treatment will alleviate the medical condition

LEARNING DISABILITY
Tuition payments to a special school for a child, who has severe learning disabilities caused by mental or physical impairments, including nervous system disorders, are reimbursable. A doctor must recommend that the child attend the school. Also, tutoring fees paid on a doctor's recommendation for a child's tutoring by a teacher who is specially trained and qualified to work with children who have severe learning disabilities are reimbursable.

Note: Expenses must be accompanied by a doctor's certification indicating the specific medical disorder, the specific treatment needed, and how this treatment will alleviate the medical condition

LEGAL FEES
Legal fees paid to authorize treatment for mental illness are reimbursable; however, if parts of the legal fees include, for example, guardianship or estate management fees, are not reimbursable. Legal fees to get a divorce, even if recommended by a physician, do not qualify.

Note: Expenses must be accompanied by a doctor's certification indicating the specific medical disorder, the specific treatment needed, and how this treatment will alleviate the medical condition
LIFETIME CARE-ADVANCE PAYMENTS
The part of a life-care fee or “founder’s fee” you pay either monthly or as a lump sum under an agreement with a retirement home is reimbursable. The part of the payment you include is the amount properly allocable to medical care. The agreement must require that you pay a specific fee as a condition for the home’s promise to provide lifetime care that includes medical care. You can use a statement from the retirement home to prove the amount properly allocable to medical care. The statement must be based either on the home’s prior experience or on information from comparable home.

Dependents with disabilities
You can include in medical expenses advance payments to a private institution for lifetime care, treatment, and training of your physically or mentally impaired child upon you death or when you become unable to provide care. The payments must be a condition for the institution’s future acceptance of your child and must not be refundable.

Payments for future medical care
Generally, you cannot include in medical expenses current payments for medical care (including medical insurance) to be provided substantially beyond the end of the year. This rule does not apply in situations where the future care is purchased in connection with obtaining lifetime care of the type described earlier.

LODGING
The cost of meals and lodging at a hospital or similar institution, if the primary reason for being there is to receive medical care are reimbursable.
The cost of lodging (not provided in a hospital or similar institution) while away from home is reimbursable if:
  • The lodging is primarily for and essential to medical care;
  • The lodging is not lavish or extravagant under the circumstances;
  • Medical care is provided by a doctor in a licensed hospital or in a medical care facility related to, or the equivalent of, a licensed hospital; and
  • There is no significant element of personal pleasure, recreation or vacation in the travel away from home.
The amount you include in medical expenses may not exceed $50 for each night for each person. Lodging is included for a person for whom transportation expenses are a medical expense because that person is traveling with the person receiving the medical care. For example: a parent traveling with a sick child is allowed up to $100 per night as a medical expense for lodging. Meals are not reimbursable.
LONG-TERM CARE INSURANCE CONTRACTS
Qualified long-term care insurance contract is an insurance contract that provides only coverage of qualified long-term care services. Qualified long-term care insurance contract is reimbursable.

The contract must:
- Be guaranteed renewable
- Not provide for a cash surrender value or other money that can be paid, assigned, pledged, or borrowed,
- Provide that refunds, other than refunds on the death of the insured or complete surrender or cancellation of the contract, and dividends under the contract must be used only to reduce future premiums or increase future benefits, and
- Generally not pay or reimburse expenses incurred for services or items that would be reimbursed under Medicare, except where Medicare is a secondary payer, or the contract makes per diem or other periodic payments without regard to expenses.

The amount of qualified long-term care premiums you can include is limited. You can include the following as medical expenses on Schedule A (Form 1040).

1. Qualified long-term care monthly premium up to the amounts shown below:
   - Age 40 or under - $290
   - Age 41 to 50 - $550
   - Age 51 to 60 - $1,110
   - Age 61 to 70 - $2,950
   - Age 71 or over - $3,680
2. Unreimbursed expenses for qualified long-term care services.

Note. The limit on premiums is for each person.

Also, you cannot include premiums for long-term care insurance if you elected to pay these premiums with tax-free distributions from a qualified retirement plan made directly to the insurance provider and these distributions would otherwise have been included in income.

LONG TERM CARE SERVICES
Long term care services are reimbursable. Medical expenses incurred while a resident receiving long-term care benefits are reimbursable. Long term care insurance premiums are reimbursable.

MASSAGE THERAPY AND EQUIPMENT
Fees paid for massages and equipment (i.e. massage chair) are not reimbursable unless to treat a physical defect or illness.

- The maintenance cost for operating the devices (e.g., electricity for air conditioner use) is also an Eligible Medical Expense.
- The maintenance cost for a home swimming pool for a person suffering from emphysema may be considered an Eligible Expense. An appraisal of the property value before and after installation is required with submission. Only the portion of the expense that exceeds the increase in property value is eligible as a medical expense.

- Furnace air filters are eligible.
- Warranties are not eligible.

Note: Expenses must be accompanied by a doctor's certification indicating the specific medical disorder, the specific treatment needed, and how this treatment will alleviate the medical condition
MEDICAL INFORMATION
Amounts paid to a plan that keeps medical information in a computer data bank and retrieves and furnishes the information upon request to an attending physician are reimbursable.

MEDICARE PART A
If you are covered under social security (or if you are a government employee who paid Medicare tax), you are enrolled in Medicare A. The payroll tax paid for Medicare A is not reimbursable. If you are not covered under social security (or were not a government employee who paid Medicare tax), you can voluntarily enroll in Medicare A. In this situation, premiums you paid for Medicare A as a medical expense are reimbursable.

MEDICARE PART B
Medicare B is a supplemental medical insurance. Premiums you pay for Medicare B are reimbursable. If you applied for it at age 65 or after you became disabled, the monthly premiums you paid are reimbursable. If you were over age 65 or disabled when you first enrolled check the information you received from the Social Security Administration to find out your premium.

MEDICARE PART D
Medicare D is a voluntary prescription drug insurance program for persons with Medicare A or B. Medicare part D premiums are reimbursable.

MEDICINES
Amounts paid for prescribed medicines and drugs are reimbursable. A prescribed drug is one which requires a prescription by a doctor for its use by an individual. The cost of insulin is also reimbursable. The cost of a prescribed drug brought in (or ordered and shipped) from another country cannot be reimbursed. The importation of prescribed drugs by individuals is illegal under federal law (even if allowed by state law). However, you can be reimbursed for the cost of a prescribed drug that you purchased and consumed in another country if the drug is legal in both the other country and the United States. See Over-The-Counter Medications

NURSING HOME
The cost of medical care in a nursing home, home for the aged or similar institution, for yourself, your spouse, or your dependents are reimbursable. This includes the cost of meals and lodging in the home if a principal reason for being there is to get medical care. Do not include the cost of meals and lodging if the reason for being in the home is personal. You can, however, include in medical expenses the part of the cost that is for medical or nursing care.
NURSING SERVICES
Wages and other amounts paid for nursing services are reimbursable. Services need not be performed by a nurse as long as the services are of a kind generally performed by a nurse. This includes services connected with caring for the patient's condition, such as giving medication or changing dressings, as well as bathing and grooming the patient.

Only the amount spent for nursing services is reimbursable. If the attendant also provides personal and household services, these amounts must be divided between the times spent performing household and personal services and the time spent on nursing services.

Meals - Amounts paid for an attendant's meals are also reimbursable. This cost may be calculated by dividing a household's total food expenses by the number of household members to find the cost of the attendant's food, then apportioning that cost in the same manner used for apportioning an attendant's wages between nursing services and all other services.

Upkeep - Additional amounts paid for household upkeep because of an attendant are also reimbursable. This includes extra rent or utilities paid because of having to move to a larger apartment to provide space for an attendant.

Infant care - Nursing or babysitting services for a normal, healthy infant are not reimbursable. Social Security, unemployment (FUTA) and Medicare taxes paid for a nurse, attendant or other person who provides medical care are reimbursable.
