Soaring inflation, rising prices, the COVID-19 pandemic and the war in Ukraine have made for a rocky economic start to 2022.

Join SageView as leading experts tackle how these market indicators will impact investments, retirement readiness and recession risk.

MAY 17 at 11am PST / 2pm EST

Recession Risk: Will We or Won't We?

Rising prices and supply chain shortages as a result of inflation and the ongoing war in Ukraine have many economists projecting the U.S. economy may be close to a recession. We’ll ask two experts to share why a recession might (or might not) be on the horizon later this year.

David Lebovitz, MBA
Global Market Strategist
J.P. Morgan Asset Management

Lindsay Rosner, CFA
Principal and Portfolio Manager
PGIM

Todd Stewart, CFA
Managing Director, Investment Research
SageView Advisory Group

MAY 24 at 11:30am PST / 2:30pm EST

The Impact of Inflation on Retirement Readiness

Inflation is at the highest level in over 40 years, and the impact goes beyond higher prices and rising interest rates - inflation also has a direct impact on retirement savings and retirement readiness. As individual investors approach retirement, what steps can they take right now to protect their savings?

Cait Dourney, CFA
Head of Business Cycle Analysis
Fidelity Investments

Russ Koesterich, CFA, JD
Managing Director
BlackRock

Mallory Armijo, CFA
Senior Investment Consultant
SageView Advisory Group